

James Goldberg

Written by Ozaukee Press

Wednesday, 24 February 2010 17:42

Port Washington native James Goldberg, who lived in Homewood, Ill., died of liver and kidney failure Monday, Feb. 22, at Vitas Hospice in Chicago Heights, Ill. He was 48.

A memorial service for Mr. Goldberg will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday, March 5, at St. John's Church in Glenwood, Ill. A prayer service will be held at 5 p.m.

A visitation will be held from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, March 6, at Casey Funeral Home in Cuba City, with a Masonic service at noon.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at St. Rose of Lima Church in Cuba City, with burial in St. Peter's Church Cemetery in Elk Grove.

Memorials to the American Brain Tumor Association are suggested.